Energex works

From Monday 2 December, Energex will commence works along Stafford Road, from Clarence Road to Bradley Avenue and from Rose Lane to Beaconsfield Terrace, to change the electrical services to an underground system. This work will involve installing new underground feeds into selected properties, the removal of power poles, construction of new electrical pits and trenching works, within the area indicated on the below map.

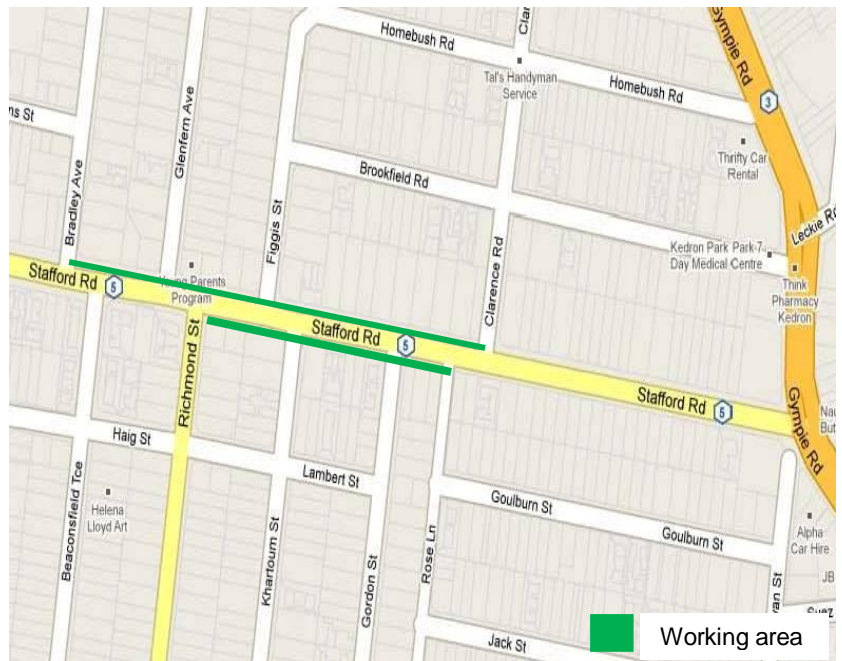

Residents requiring works within their property boundary will be notified in advance. Work will occur over 10 weeks, Monday to Saturday, 6:30am to 6:30pm. This work is being undertaken in conjunction with the Airport Link project.

Activities will include

- Trenching and excavation
- Installation of electrical pillars and cables
- Removal of existing power poles along Stafford Road, from Clarence Rd to Bradley Ave, and from Rose Lne to Beaconsfield Tce
- Construction of new electrical pits on Stafford Road
- Reinstatement of disrupted footpaths and grass areas

What to expect

- Road and footpath diversions, when required
- Construction vehicle movements
- Noise from operating excavator, jack hammer and saw cutter, when required

Short disruptions to services (no more than 30 minutes) may occur when switching onto the new system - Energex will provide further notification prior to power outages. We thank you for your patience during the construction of this important infrastructure.
